The love of my life

I can never find the perfect words to capture what I truly feel for you. Every time I try to write, it feels like only a fraction of my love makes it onto the page. Bocil, if only you could peek inside my heart, you'd see how infinite my love truly is. I often wonder, how can I show you the full weight of my feelings? How can I show the world that you are my everything? I love you—today, yesterday, and all the tomorrows we have yet to see. I love you 3000. I love you to the moon and back, and then further, beyond the stars, past every edge of forever.

I love you Sayang.

I don't want just a moment with you, Sayang—I want every moment this life can offer and even those that might follow in whatever comes next. I want to be your man, not just now, but for the rest of my existence.

And Sayang, if I ever seem distant, if I get caught up in responsibilities or become busier with work, please know this—it's not because I love you any less. I'm just building a future. A future where we can live fully, happily, and securely together. I'm chasing that vision not just for myself, but for us. For the life I want to give you. For the promises I plan to keep.

You are my reason. You are my calm and my chaos. You are the warmth in my soul and the fire in my heart. And no matter what changes around us, my love for you remains untouched, unwavering, and eternal.

With love from Your Baby
